Your Zotero Library is organized into 3 columns and will appear in the bottom half of your web browser.

In the left column, you can organize your research into folders.

The center column is where downloaded references are automatically stored – this is your permanent library and you can also access it by clicking “My Library” in the left column.

The right column contains bibliographic information about the item highlighted in the center column.